The Lutheran Church and Church Union.

The Lutheran Church teaches that there is one, invisible, holy, Christian Church. Whoever believes in Christ as his Saviour belongs to this invisible "communion of the saints." Such believers are found in every Church which still teaches the fundamental truths of the Christian religion. The visible Church is much divided, unfortunately. Even the Lutheran Church itself is divided into many synods. Again unfortunately. Many people today would have all churches to unite. The United Church of Canada is an evidence of this tendency. The Lutheran Church (Missouri Synod) favors the union of all Lutheran bodies. It favors a union of all Christian denominations. It insists, however, that union in doctrine on the basis of God's Word must precede organizational union. Those who teach doctrines which are not in harmony with "the faith which was once delivered unto the saints" are not permitted to preach on Lutheran (Missouri Synod) pulpits. This is as God would have it Romans 16, 17: Now I beseech you brethren, mark them which cause divisions and offenses contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned, and avoid them.

This is the last of a series of articles on Lutheran faith and practice. Celebrating Canada's Jubilee

The celebration of the sixtieth anniversary of Confederation should be well and fittingly observed by all citizens throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and no community however small should fail to take advantage of this historic date to review the progress of the country and to strengthen in the minds of all, especially the young, a determination to render worth-while service to Canada and make it a still better land in which to live and a real power for good among the nations of the world.

A strong national committee has been created by Parliament to give direction to this celebration in its large national aspects, and Provincial committees are in process of formation in each of the nine provinces. The chief national ceremonies will, of course, be held at Ottawa, the Federal capital, and it is proposed that in each of the provinces striking ceremonies should be held at the provincial capital cities. But every city, town, village and hamlet should likewise organize to commemorate the event.

While in the observance of this diamond jubilee, sports, concerts, fireworks, and other forms of recreation and pleasure will and should find a place, it is to be hoped that something of a more lasting character will be done or inaugurated that will materially assist in the continued and greater development of Canada and advancing it along the path to true national greatness and strength.

The Dominion-wide oratory contest now in progress in the schools of the Dominion under the auspices of leading daily newspapers is a concrete example of what we have in mind. It is educational, inspirational, and cannot fail to induce a true pride in Canada and its achievements, and help to promote a fine and helpful national spirit. The study which participation in this contest imposes on thousands of students will have a lasting impression, while the training in public speaking that results will prove a real asset to the Dominion.

A suggestion has also been advanced that the national committee should create a national prize in literature to be awarded each year to the best Canadian literary production of the year. Such award might fittingly be announced on each succeeding Dominion Day. A really worth-while prize would undoubtedly have the effect of encouraging a higher standard in Canadian literature.

Cannot the idea which prompted this suggestion be extended to include each community throughout the Dominion? Most of our cities, towns and villages experience a lack of something of a public nature which could easily be provided at comparatively small expense if the residents would unite their efforts in making provision for it. Some lack a community center; in others the absence of a public library is a real loss to the people; some places have as yet failed to make adequate provision, possibly no provision at all, in the shape of parks or playgrounds; many have neglected to plant trees or create beauty spots to improve the appearance of the community in which they pass their lives.

What could be better prove a more fitting observance of Canada's Jubilee than the creation of a Confederation Park, a Jubilee Library, a Canada Community Hall, or a Confederation Avenue of trees, "or something of beauty or of public service along somewhat similar lines?"

The above suggestions are merely intended to direct attention to the idea and to provoke consideration of it. Each community will be aware of its most pressing need, and of its ability to supply that need. Each community, no matter how small in numbers, can do something. All that is necessary is that some thought and consideration be given to the matter, and one or two "live" leaders can quickly secure the co-operation of all, with the result that something really valuable and of lasting benefit will result in commemoration of the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation.

Gorgeous Car For Nigerian Chief

British Factory Turns Out Dazzling Vehicle for Emir of Kano

Rich native potentates who have luxurious tastes in automobiles, invariably place their orders in England. A car that has just been completed for the Emir of Kano, one of the most powerful of the Nigerian chiefs, had, according to instructions, to look like a bird of paradise, when travelling under the blue African sky. The use of black on any part of the car was forbidden on religious grounds. All difficulties were, however, overcome, and rarely has anything more gorgeous left a British factory than this dazzling vehicle. The chassis is a six-cylinder with all parts brightly finished. The dashboard is of polished aluminum. The steering wheel and the door handles are blue. The springs are painted red and the fender carrier on the dashboard is of ivory. The body is striped with red and gold lines. The hood is more like a sunshade and is a vivid green in color, and the interior is upholstered in blue leather. Even the engine, normally black, has been camouflaged with silver paint. In the dazzling sunshine of Africa the car travelling at high speed—and it is understood the Emir of Kano delights in speed—will certainly give some impression of a gay bird of many hues.

T.B. Taking Heavy Toll

Deaths Among Greenland Eskimos Due to Unsanitary Conditions. The devastating influence of tuberculosis are taking a very heavy toll of Greenland Eskimos. H. C. Raven of the department of comparative anatomy of the American Museum of Natural History, told the Royal Canadian Institute in Toronto.

The prevalence of tuberculosis in Greenland, where Mr. Raven spent the summer of 1926, was attributed by him to the fact that the Eskimos lived in very unsanitary surroundings, as many as 12 people being crowded into one little igloo four feet wide by ten or twelve feet high.

Vitaglass Is Newest Idea

Does Not Exclude Ultra-Violet Rays Like Window Glass

Scientists have discovered at a date if somewhat belated, that glass windows, from the standpoint of health, are one of the greatest evils from which humanity suffers. They do act as a preventive to cold winds, draughts and damp, but they only give the illusion of light and warmth. The Medical Research Council corroborates the fact that when light passes through a window of ordinary glass it is entirely robbed of the beneficial ultra-violet rays. It gives a sensation of warmth, but, apart from this, it can have no effect on bodily efficiency and well-being.

The remedy exists, however, for both light and the ultra-violet rays are provided by vitaglass, the invention of a Birmingham scientist, Mr. E. E. Laumpling. It has been installed in several hospitals in Great Britain and in the Smithwick, Borough County Schools. The installation, it is claimed, has had remarkable results on the health of the pupils.

The Morning Post says that vitaglass possesses the property of transparency, but they are especially valuable for their high cost had rendered the possibility of their application to windows quite prohibitive. The cost of vitaglass is, however, very little more than ordinary window glass, and so the question of its installation in factories and industrial centres becomes of considerable interest.

"Up till quite recently it had been found that quartz or fused silica were the only known substances that possessed this property of transparency, and their high cost had rendered the possibility of their application to windows quite prohibitive. The cost of vitaglass is, however, very little more than ordinary window glass, and so the question of its installation in factories and industrial centres becomes of considerable interest."

The women of China will be a factor in the readjustment in that country, according to Mrs. Grace Thompson Seton who spoke before the Women's Press Club in New York. From a state of complete subjection to men women are fast emerging, she said, and banks for women are being established.

A Model of Cleanliness

If the housewife could visit a modern milk condenser, where pure country milk is put in tins for her convenience, she would be as delighted with its cleanliness as she would be amazed at the ingenuity of the process. In Jordan communities, where Eagle Brand or St. Charles Milk is packed, the entire plant is subjected to a rigid cleaning every day. Every container and every piece of piping through which the milk passes is sealed with live steam. St. Charles milk, which is evaporated, has nothing added to it, and nothing taken away, except a portion of the natural moisture of the country milk. After being tinned it is sterilized, so it will keep perfectly in the unopened tin. Eagle Brand, which is condensed milk, is preserved by the addition of pure cane sugar, but nothing else is added to the fresh country milk. The condensed milk is called "sweetened" and the evaporated "unsweetened" milk.

Factors Which Have Tended To Direct Greater Attention To Wheat Growing In Canada

Certain factors have tended recently to direct greater attention to wheat growing in Canada, that phase of the Dominion's agriculture upon which the great and elaborate industry is founded, yet which has been in some danger of being pushed into the background with the rapid development of other branches of agriculture. Wheat is the great fundamental crop of Canadian farming and, in expert, far-sighted opinion, is likely to remain so. In 1926 Canada had 22,768,149 acres devoted to wheat, estimated to have returned 17.5 bushels to the acre, or a total of 405,938,000 bushels. Canada's acreage in wheat was exceeded only by that of the United States and British India, while the Dominion yield is second only to that of the United States. It is further estimated that the Canadian wheat crop in 1926 returned $447,673,000 to its producers, as compared with $459,149,200 in 1925, and $320,368,000 in 1924. Taking the figures of the last Canadian census approximately $450 was distributed to every farm in Canada from the wheat crop alone in 1926.

Certain events have recently combined to considerably widen the future possibilities of wheat growing in Canada, broad as these already were. The wheat belt in Western Canada was definitely and beyond question placed much farther north in 1926 when the wheat adjudged to be the best on the American continent in that year came from the Peace River Country of Northern Alberta, eight hundred miles north of the international border. One would long hesitate now to put northern limits to the wheat belt in Canada, especially in view of the elastic possibilities of Garnet wheat and other rapid maturing wheats which may yet be developed.

According to all reports, Garnet wheat fully justified the great expectations deposited in it. The Canadian Minister of Agriculture states that reports from scores of farmers are unanimous on the one vital claim that it ripens ten days earlier than Marquis. The yields also have been highly satisfactory and some extraordinary ones reported. A settler north of Prince Albert struggling along with twelve acres of land available for wheat sowed Garnet seed, harvested 64 bushels to the acre, marketing his crop for about $2,000.

Along the northern edge of the agricultural belt in the three Prairie Provinces, where the frost menace is so great as to make wheat growing very uncertain, Garnet wheat has come through splendidly according to the Canadian Minister. While other varieties of grain were tipped and rendered unsalable except for chicken feed, Garnet was a good marketable product. The Minister declared there could no longer be a doubt to the benefit of Garnet. It has rolled back the northern boundary of agriculture in Canada from 100 to 150 miles, bringing all the meadow and lake country from Fort Nelson and Fort Churchill to the Rocky Mountains within the domain of the plough.

A great deal of interest centred upon the visit to Canada recently of Sir Herbert Matthews, secretary of the Central Chamber of British Agriculture, and his views on Canadian agricultural prospects were eagerly sought. They were summed in the expression that Canada had to be the source of supply for wheat for the Old Country for some time to come. He could see very little prospect of Russia wheat being again largely consumed in the United Kingdom as it was before the war, for many years to come, a fear which has been somewhat of a bogey to Western Canadian wheat producers. Under such circumstances, and with the uncertainties of supplies from India, where crops sometimes fail, together with the fact that people in such countries as India, China and Japan are more and more going over to wheat products, Canada is likely to be more and more looked to as Britain's chief source of supply of wheat.

Cattle Market Improves

The Outlook For The Canadian Cattle And Meat Trade

The Canadian cattle and meat trade in 1926, although lacking the stimulating effect of steadily rising prices, had one of its best years since 1900. The rank and file of cattle showed even better prices than in 1925 and at the same time were greater in weight, but export quality and weights of cattle did not receive the same recognition as did the ordinary run, chiefly on account of extraordinary conditions in Great Britain, our chief outlet for fat cattle, according to the annual Live Stock Market and Meat Trade Review, 1926, issued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, a broad domestic demand accounted for the generally good average prices paid on all public stock yards in the Dominion. The market, however, lacked the keen demand for the heavier weights of cattle that existed in 1925. The export classes of cattle sold on a declining market on account of several depressive factors which affected the situation in Britain. These were the miners' strike and a price-cutting war between the frozen and chilled meat companies in Argentina.

However, as is pointed out in the Review, the adverse conditions affecting the British market have mostly passed, and prospects for a better trade with Britain in 1927 are good. The situation as regards the United States market also offers much encouragement. Early in the New Year there was strong evidence of improvement in the domestic market with re-establishment of the better grades of steers at very fair prices.

Money In Rabbit Pelts

Snowshoe Rabbit of Western Canada Provides New Source of Revenue for Settlers

Owing to the discovery of a new process for tanning rabbit skins, the despised snowshoe rabbit of Western Canada is developing into a new source of revenue for settlers in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. Especially has this been true of the northern sections or park and wooded areas. A reliable estimate made of the 1926-7 winter catch places this in the neighborhood of 2,000,000 pelts with a revenue of some $200,000. Untanned skins are sent to New York and London to be used in a variety of ways, and food farmers are heavy buyers of rabbit carcasses.

Foreigners In Great Britain

Number Is Very Small In Proportion To Population

Talking of foreigners in connection with our immigration problem reminds us that every country has its foreigners, even China, and in every country the foreigners "danger" is over-emphasized. Overseas Monthly for March says that "to judge by the outpourings of some of the popular press, one would imagine that the hearth and home of every true Briton was challenged by the influx of great hordes of foreigners. The truth of the matter is, as anyone who has studied the figures knows, that the foreign population of Great Britain is negligible. To be exact, there are only 259,620 aliens in the United Kingdom."

Few countries can have such a small foreign population in proportion to the total number of inhabitants. Two great changes have taken place in the constitution of Britain's foreign population, as Mr. F. A. Mackenzie points out in an article in The Landmark, the organ of the English-speaking Union: The number of Germans has declined, and there has been a great increase in the number of Americans. Here are the latest figures of the aliens permanently residing in Great Britain: American, 20,620; Austrian, 6,571; Belgian, 10,879; Dutch, 8,605; French, 24,580; German, 19,281; Italian, 29,633; Polish, 6,894; Russian, 17,721; Scandinavian, 12,411; Swiss, 12,497; others, 29,114.

Publicity Campaign

Edmonton Board of Trade Doing Good Work In Attracting Settlers

Since the Edmonton Board of Trade started its two-year publicity campaign over 4,200 letter and 1,200 completed questionnaires have been received from farmers in the mid-western United States, and in addition some 200 persons have called at the Board's office on the occasion of their inspection of the district, and the greater portion of these have settled on land in the central portion of the province.

Okanagan Tobacco Growers

Under the name of the Okanagan Tobacco Growers' Association, those who are undertaking the raising of tobacco in the Kelowna district have organized for mutual protection and will invite growers in other sections of the Okanagan and neighboring valleys to form "locals" and affiliate with them.

Oftentimes, it's the mink in the closet that is responsible for the vote at the door.

Most people would be inclined to regard Colonel A. C. H. Cayley, whose experiment with man-lifting kites had attracted general attention to flying, as the Father of Aviation in Great Britain. This distinction, however, really belongs to Sir George Cayley, whose ancestor was awarded a baronetcy in 1851, and whose family seat is Brompton Hall, near Northallerton. It is announced that his notebook and papers have been discovered and will shortly be published. Monsieur Charles Dollfus, the authority on the history of flying, has said of him that he was "the greatest man aviation has known." He had for his time—he was born in 1773 and died in 1857—a curiously wide outlook on the subject of flying, which he made his life's hobby. As early as 1818 he wrote that the airship offered "a direct, swift, and easy escape from any one point to every other on the face of the globe," describing the air as "An uninterrupted, impassable ocean, that comes to the threshold of every man's door, and ought not to be neglected as a source of human gratification and advantage."

He went further than this, however, and even foretold that the airship and the aeroplane were destined to play in the air transport of the future—each complementary to the other. "Elongated balloons (airships) of large dimensions," he wrote, "thus offer greater facilities for carrying men and goods through the air than mechanical means (aeroplanes) alone;" and in 1843 made his views even clearer by writing: "Mechanical flight (the aeroplane) seems more adapted for use on a much smaller scale, and for less remote distances; serving, perhaps, the same purpose that a boat does to a ship, each being essential to the other." No more clear anticipation of the Air Ministry's present policy of running long non-stop "trunk" airship services with "feeder lines" operated by aeroplanes could possibly be imagined.

Cayley did not rest contented with writing articles, but put his theories to practical test. He built many models and several full-sized gliders which were tested from the high ground behind Brompton Hall. One of these gliders at last succeeded in making a "flight" right across the valley and landing on the opposite hillside 300 yards away. Cayley started experimenting with a toy helicopter in 1796, and continued trying his gliders until a year or two from the day of his death at the age of 81.

Claims Kingship Over Canadian Indians

Title Sought by Someone Writing From Chicago to Canadian Legation

On pale blue letterhead inscribed "Vive le Roi," a protest has been written by someone in Chicago to the British Government claiming recognition for a certain Prince, G.-C. C. and Grand Regent, as King of a well-known tribe of Indians. The Canadian government has refused to recognize his kingship of the tribe, says the applicant and asks to whom he can turn. The letter which has reached the Canadian legation at Washington, asks for a translation into the language of the tribe mentioned, a dozen sealed tubes ranging from king to sub-woman chief.

The names of five princes and one duke who claim the title of bishop as well as given. The letter probably will be referred to the Indian Department at Ottawa.

Canning Factory for Edmonton

The Broder Canning Co., New Westminster, is looking for a site in Edmonton for the purpose of establishing a canning factory which will be the first of its kind in Alberta. It is a development following the expansion of the vegetable-growing industry of this province. Formerly Alberta imported all her vegetables in canned or preserved form, but she is growing more than 50 per cent of the ordinary vegetable the consumers.

Predicts Better Prices For Wool

Production Is Increasing and Values Are About to Improve

Although wool production is increasing in almost every country, and particularly on this continent, in Europe and Australia, leading experts in the United States look for an improved market this year. According to Mr. Albert H. Elliott, vice-president of the Borton Wool Trade Association—and Boston is the second wool trade centre of the world—it would appear that the cycle of low prices has been completed and values are about to improve.

He points out that the immense stocks which accumulated some time ago have been used, and that there is a far healthier tone in the great consuming markets of Britain and Continental Europe. "The evidence is that the wool using population of the world," he concludes, "is growing a little faster than any possible increase that can come in wool production."

The two-piece frock is more important than ever

This season the two-piece frock rules over a wider domain than ever, and on many days the hours of its reign extend from morning to evening. Therefore, it must be practical, yet combine as well, a semi-formal charm for leisurely events. The model pictured here is a typical example of a sports costume that is smartly correct for either a morning of shopping, or an afternoon of bridge. The blouse slips on over the head and has a collar that may be worn buttoned high or turned back as illustrated. The front of the blouse has gathers at each shoulder and two patch pockets for adornment, the back being quite plain. The long set-in sleeves are gathered into tailored cuffs fastening with links. The skirt belt is a new detail and provides a soft bloused effect at the hip-line. Fullness in the skirt is attained by two box-plaits in the front. The blouse No. 1347, is in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust. Size 36 requires 3 1/2 yards 36-inch figured material; 3/4 yard plain. Is What Thousands of Mothers

Say of Baby's Own Tablets
Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she will use nothing else. Experience teaches her that they are without an equal for relieving baby of any of the many minor ailments which afflict him at one time or another. The Tablets never fail to be of benefit—they can not possibly do harm as they are guaranteed to be free from all injurious drugs.

Concerning Baby's Own Tablets Mrs. Russell Hill, Norwood, Ont., says—"I shall always have a good word to say for Baby's Own Tablets. I have given them to our baby girl. In fact they are the only medicine she has ever had and I am proud to say that she took second prize at our baby show. She is eleven months old and weighs 22 pounds. No mother whose child is peevish or ailing will make a mistake in giving Baby's Own Tablets."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers direct by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Newspaper of Today

Aims to Present to Readers Important Events of Community

The newspaper of today aims to be a mirror of the important events in the community in which it is published, and of the world at large. It does not follow that the unusual, the unexpected, the surprising are not news. The light and amusing, the strange and fantastic have their proper and important place in the newspaper, the pages of which they frighten, but newspapers that exploit the oddities of life to the neglect of the great, moving force, are merely running side-shows to real journalism. Well directed journalism is one of the great forces in society today.—Brantford Expositor.

Canadians Heavy Tea Drinkers

Dominion Stands Fourth Among Nations of World in That Respect

Each Canadian drinks over four pounds of tea per year, or practically five times as much as our American cousins to the south of us. Great Britain (including Northern Ireland) leads the world in point of consumption by using yearly over 400 million pounds (nearly 8 1/2 pounds per capita). Then comes the United States with 100 million, but only nine-tenths of a pound per capita. Next comes Australia with 45 million, and Canada with 36 million. No reliable statistics are available for China or Russia. Both these countries consume a large amount of tea, but the per capita is very small. A great deal more tea would be used on this continent if the public were educated to demand fresh tea. Old tea is flat and unpalatable. Tea is a very delicate vegetable growth, which deteriorates unless kept in a cool, dry place. If a single ear soon loses its flavor if exposed to the air. This is exactly what occurs in the case of tea.

Alberta Man Suffered With Weak Kidneys and Found Dodd's Kidney Pills Very Helpful.

"Piers, Alberta, (Special)—'I have found your Dodd's Kidney Pills very helpful for my kidneys. I used Mr. Fred Hartman, a well known and highly respected resident of this place, used to have weak kidneys and since using your Pills I feel better in every way and am able to work longer. I used to have back aches and would feel miserable all day. As soon as I started taking your Dodd's Kidney Pills I felt better."

It is astonishing how many people go on suffering day after day with aches and pains, rheumatism and backaches. They suffer because they are not aware of the fact that they can get relief. Strengthen the kidneys which are the source of the trouble and these pains vanish. Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys. They heal and strengthen them so that they do their full work of straining all the impurities out of the blood.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

APRIL 17

PETER'S GREAT CONFESSION

Golden Text, Living art the Christ, the Son of the living God.—Matthew 16:16.

Lesson: Matthew 16:13-14.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 34:1-8.

Explanations and Comments

1. Opinions About Jesus, verses 13, 14. His disciples Jesus had journeyed as far as the neighborhood of Caesarea Philippi when He suddenly asked them, "Who do men say that the Son of man is?" The phrase "Son of man," was not associated in the popular mind with the idea of the Messiah, for had it been, Jesus would not have used it as He did early in His ministry. He used it here, seemingly, with no implication as to His identity. Mark and Luke give the same question: "Who do men say that I am?"

The disciples answered that some thought He was John the Baptist, as Herod said, Matthew 14:3; some, that He was Elijah; and others, Jeremiah, or some other of the prophets. "There was no man now living with whom He could be compared. We do not name things. When we want to stir men's hearts, we appeal to the dead; when we search for the great, we descend into the grave, we talk of Shakespeare and Caesar, of Charlemagne and Alfred the Great, of Lincoln and Webster, we dare not use the name of man living. That is what the Jews did. This tells very clearly that to them He was a man of transient moment." (E. Jefferson). "Did you ever think of the vast difference there is between the character of Elijah and Jeremiah?" questions G. H. Morrison. "The one is ardent, enthusiastic, fierce sometimes. The other is the prophet of the tender heart. And the remarkable thing is that the common people should have taken these eyes, which are as wide apart, and should have found in both the character of Christ. In other words, the impression which Jesus made was that of a complex, inclusive personality. You could not exhaust Him by a single prophet, it took the range of the greatest to portray his character."

New Device For Motor Car Headlights

The Visolite Transparent Deflector is a simple device, so arranged that motor car owners will have no difficulty in focusing their headlights to conform with the new Vehicles Act. Saskatchewan has taken the lead in eliminating the dimming of headlights and substituting for it a requirement that all lamps carried on the front of a motor vehicle shall be so arranged that no portion of the direct beam of reflected or refracted light issuing therefrom shall when measured seventy-five feet above of such lamps, rise above forty-two inches from the level surface on which the motor vehicle stands."

The Visolite brings the uppermost rays down to a proper focus thereby eliminating the penetrating glare experienced by car owners with night driving. On the uppermost rays are refracted and the volume of white light is not lost. Many drivers complain of eye-strain by constantly looking ahead for small ruts and bumps through the glaring white lights of his car. Visolite, which the driver's seat casts a slight green reflection above the main beam of light thereby eliminating the glare and at the same time sufficiently outlying all objects above the horizon of vision. It is just as difficult for the driver to penetrate a lens as it is for a driver to see through a windshield when raining, without a windshield wiper. The Visolite extends far enough out from the lens to arrest the glare originating at the bottom side of the reflector as well as keeping dirt off the lens during snow and fog.

Visolites are made of a 35 gauge green celluloid, with an aluminum rim. They are the result of more than three years of experimenting and scientific tests. They are made to fit snugly between the lens and rim, and can be attached to any headlight.

A Deathless Bullet

Sportsmen Will Use "Merry Bullet" to Capture Animals Alive

Zooe throughout the world may soon be enriched by the addition of specimens of those kinds of animals which have been almost impossible to capture alive, as the result of an invention of Captain Barnett Harris, sportsman and representative of the Chicago Zoological Society.

It is a deathless bullet, which produces a complete unconsciousness but no permanent ill effects.

The "merry bullet," as he calls it, contains a powerful narcotic released upon striking the animal. Entering the blood, this drug almost instantly produces a state of coma.

Captain Harris will use to Borneo soon to use his new weapon. He expects to secure orang-utangs and gorillas, which are easy to shoot, but extremely difficult to capture alive.

CHINESE TROOPS AT PEKING STAGE RAID ON SOVIETS

Peking.—A raid by Northern reds and Chinese troops on the Soviet embassy here and the detention at a hotel of two United States journalists, one a woman, who are known to have incurred the displeasure of the Northern command by contributing to hostile publications, today intensified new international aspects to the Chinese civil war imbroglio.

Both the raid, which resulted in the removal of 22 Russians and about 50 Chinese, described as agitators, from the embassy compound, and the detention of the Americans, were conducted by representatives of Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, the Manchurian warlord, who is commander of the Northern forces defending Peking.

While the raid was in progress fire broke out in the building formerly occupied by the Russian legation guard. A report was circulated, although its truth could not be confirmed, that the fire was started for the purpose of preventing records from falling into the hands of the Northern. Two fire brigades rushed to the building and extinguished the flames in a short time, although not before some ammunition in the structure exploded, wounding one Russian dangerously.

Numerous bundles of red flags, seven carloads of propaganda leaflets, a machine gun, a trench mortar, bombs, about a ton of rifles, thousands of Kuomintang (the Chinese political party) flags and a quantity of ammunition were stated to have been taken from the raided buildings.

Marshal Chang Tso-Lin notified Northern commanders of the raid. "The main danger to the preservation of peace in Peking is now removed," the marshal's message was quoted as saying. "Those arrested will be tried and dealt with according to their deserts. It must be pointed out that these rebellious mischief makers who are responsible for the dissemination of Bolshevism and the havoc wrought upon the people and the nations are unpardonable."

Stresses Will For Peace

Paramount Necessity to Prevent War Says French Foreign Minister

Paris.—More important than technical disarmament is the will for peace, declared M. Briand, foreign minister, in a message sent to the United States on the occasion of the tenth anniversary of the entry of the United States into the world war.

M. Briand's message, sent on the heels of France's refusal to participate in the three-power naval disarmament conference, stressed, it stated that the paramount necessity in preventing war is the cultivation in the civilized world of a spirit of peace interpreted through a "policy of peace" on the part of all nations.

"If there were need of it between the two great democracies in order to give full testimony of their desire for peace, and to furnish a solemn example to other people France would be willing to enter into an agreement with America mutually outlawing war, by any way, or expressing it."

Question of Land Title of B.C. Indians Before Committee

Ottawa.—Counsel for the Allied Tribes of British Columbia continued presentation of the claims of the tribes to the aboriginal title to lands in British Columbia before the joint committee of the House of Commons and the Senate.

Quotations were presented from ancient treaties and more modern court judgments in support of the contention that the relation of the Canadian government to the tribes was one of trusteeship as opposed to guardianship.

New Plane For De Pinedo

Italian Aviator Will Resume Flight in Sloop Ship From Italy

Apache Lodge, Roosevelt Dam, Ariz.—Commander Francesco de Pinedo intends to resume his international flight just as quickly as he can arrange for a sloop ship to be sent to the United States from his native Italy.

A thousand-day hey and a match caused the destruction of the big sea plane after the aviator had flown it across the Atlantic Ocean, risked his life soaring over the wilds of South America and brought it here against great odds in making hops by inland waters en route to the Pacific Coast.

The match was tossed on the oil-coated surface of the lake about the plane after the youth lighted a cigarette, and within a few minutes the ship, on which de Pinedo had stowed such care, was a mass of flames.

Everything was in readiness for the departure of the commander on the Apache Lodge-Santa Maria leg of his journey when the Santa Maria burst in flames. The aviator was bidding goodbye to friends on the shore as the match struck the oil-coated water, a flash and it had communicated the flames to the plane. As the ship burst into flames from stem to stern, Captain de Pinedo and his mechanic, M. Paschett, jumped aboardward.

The oil had been spilled on the water in refueling the ship and the fire became so intense there was no opportunity to reach the Santa Maria's cabin to get fire extinguishers.

Britain's Chinese Policy

Not Prepared to be Hushed Out of China, Says Chamberlain

London.—Great Britain has no intention of being driven out of China, Sir Austen Chamberlain, foreign minister, made it clear during a debate in the House of Commons on the Chinese situation, in reiterating the Government's policy.

He declared that Great Britain would pursue a policy of conciliation and adjustment of its old position in China to meet the new opportunity of the Chinese people and the conditions of the country as events progressed.

Then, after a pause, he said loudly and solemnly: "Great Britain is not prepared to be hushed out of China." His statement drew cheers from the Conservative benches, after which he continued: "Nor are we prepared to withdraw our nationals from Shanghai and other open-country places or be treated as though they had no right to that which is theirs by treaty and by the laws of the world. We are not prepared to be hushed out of China."

British Emigration to Canada

Says Percentage Coming to Dominion Is Lamentably Small

London.—"It frankly says that up to date we have been grievously disappointed with British emigration to Canada," declared Col. J. F. Dennis, of Montreal, head of the department of the Canadian Pacific Railway, speaking at a luncheon here.

"There is a Dominion and provincial organization in Canada capable of handling 50,000,000, yet we have only 9,000,000. We have to look to Great Britain and Continental Europe for our increase yet the percentage we are obtaining from Britain is lamentably small."

Hon. Herbert Greenfield, former premier of Alberta, speaking at the same luncheon, declared that the interest taken by some of the most outstanding men in Great Britain in Canadian enterprises was remarkable. There was a great reservoir of population in Britain which would make admirable settlers in Canada.

Want Canadian Coal Used

Glasgow.—"The Government is bending every effort to" supplant American anthracite in the markets of Central Canada," Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of Mines, stated in the House of Commons in supporting the second reading of a bill to encourage the production of domestic fuel and coal.

Polish Officers Executed

Warsaw.—Two Polish army officers, named Plekacz and Urbanek, were arrested in Thurn, charged with delivering plans for the defence of Pomerania province to German agents. They were court-martialed, convicted and executed.

WOULD DEVELOP WIDER MARKETS FOR PRODUCTS

Winnipeg.—Reorganization of the board of railway commissioners, three of whose members, three of whom would be from Western Canada, appointment of a trade commissioner to the United States to develop markets for Canadian products, and that taxation reductions should be in the form of reducing and removal of protective duties on imports, with the income tax maintained, were among the subjects urged upon the federal government in resolutions adopted at the annual meeting of the Canadian Council of Agriculture here.

Other resolutions adopted protested against any duty being placed on binder twine coming into Canada, and urged that the council co-operate with the land settlement board and the Canadian Red Cross in securing the continuance of the British grant for medical attention to immigrants coming to Canada under the assisted passage scheme.

The development of the Saskatchewan section of the United Farmers of Canada was discussed. The Saskatchewan organization, at a recent convention in Moose Jaw, decided that it "would join the council only, after it is fundamentally reorganized."

It was decided that the reorganization demanded of the Canadian Council of Agriculture would not be practicable nor in the best interests of the farmers of Canada generally. The council will continue to carry on its work even though the Saskatchewan seats at the council table are vacant.

A. J. M. Poole, of Kelowna, B.C., was elected president of the council, and all other officers were unanimously elected with H. G. H. Schofield, vice-president of the United Farmers of Alberta, as vice-president. Mrs. S. E. Gee was elected president of the women's section, with Mrs. Miles O'Neil, president of the United Farm Women of Ontario, as vice-president.

Italy and Hungary Pledge Eternal Friendships and Aid

Italy and Hungary, through their prime ministers, drank toasts, pledging eternal friendship and aid. Both Premier Mussolini and Count Bethlen, the Hungarian premier, were visible in their praise of each other, and expressed good wishes for the welfare of their countries and their sovereigns. The occasion was a dinner which Mussolini tendered at the capital in honor of the visiting Hungarian statesman, and followed the signing yesterday, of a treaty of friendship, conciliation and arbitration between Italy and Hungary.

Protest Salary Revision

Civil Service Organization Considers Recent Adjustment Inadequate

Vancouver.—In a protest against civil service salary revision, as announced in Ottawa recently, forwarded to the federal authorities by Fred Knowles of Vancouver, and C. Gardner, of Regina, president and secretary, respectively, of the Amalgamated civil servants' association of Canada, they state they find that what is "at best an equalization of pay is called a $180 increase for the purpose of depriving civil servants affected of the full benefit of the new increase."

Complaint is also made that the salary readjustment has been made only after three years' delay and that revision dates only from April 1, 1927.

"We consider that, after four years' agitation on the salary question, to be offered in most cases from $42 to $60 is a direct insult to the patient and long-suffering service," the protest concludes.

Asks Assistance For Imperial Service Men

B. C. Legion Branch Sends Request to Federal Government

Victoria.—The Cowichan branch of the Canadian Legion at a meeting at Duncan, passed a resolution "that the Canadian Government be requested to defray the entire cost of transportation, maintenance and treatment of all Imperial service men invalided to Canada due to service in China." The resolution referred to Canada's large trade interests in China and to the fact that many Canadian in China are being protected by Imperial forces. A copy of the resolution will be sent to Premier Mackenzie King.

Boycott of U.S. Goods

Agitation Starts in Capital of Southern Chinese Province

Shanghai.—Anti-American agitation, taking the form of a strike and a boycott of United States goods, has broken out at Changsha, capital of the province of Hunan, in southern China. A wireless despatch from that place said the strike and boycott had gone into effect and reported that the United States consulate had gone about the Ssang river, preparatory to leaving Changsha.

The whole province of Hunan will be evacuated by foreigners shortly because of labor anti-foreign manifestations.

South African Field Yields Large Diamond

Weights 81 Carats and Valued at $35,000 Is Report

London.—A exceedingly rich diamond find has been discovered at Alexander Bay, south of the mouth of the Orange River, says a Cape Town despatch to The Daily Mail. The despatch says that powerful financial interests have acquired control of the diggings which accordingly will not be proclaimed public. The largest stone thus far reported on the new diggings was valued at £7,000 weighing 81 carats.

There are 1429 women magistrates for England and 2,377 for Scotland.

COMMONS VOTES SUBSTANTIAL SUM FOR IMMIGRATION

Ottawa.—The immigration problems of the Dominion, occupied the attention of the Commons. A vote of $25,000 for the department of immigration and colonization was before the House in committee of supply and the discussion, which lasted several hours before the vote was finally passed, took in practically all phases of the department's activities. Its recent disagreement with the Salvation Army came in for debate with some of the members, particularly from the west, supporting the department's position on the ground that since it was in the immigration business it should not hand over its work to outside organizations. Others expressed regret that the Government had decided to stop its grants to the Salvation Army emphasizing that it had been an important factor in the colonization of the past.

Hon. Robert Furke, Minister of Immigration, was optimistic of the outlook for the coming summer and the years immediately to follow. Confident in the future of Canada, the minister did not fear bringing out large numbers from the Old Country would increase unemployment. He promised to give consideration to bringing immigrants to the Maritimes as well as the West and urged co-operation of all parts of Canada to the work of lending a hand to the immigrants and otherwise assisting the department in this important work.

Considerable criticism developed regarding the various regulations respecting immigration, several members taking the view that they were too severe in many respects.

Following the passing of the item of $265,000 for civil administration other appropriations, totalling $2,580,000, were quickly approved. This total included a sum of $750,000 towards the empire settlement scheme.

Opposed to Serum For Cancer Treatment

Only Reliable Cure Is Surgery Says New York Doctor

Toronto.—The weight of medical expert opinion is against the use of serums in the treatment of cancer, Dr. William S. Balch, of New York, told the Toronto Academy of Medicine. He said that those who had deeply studied the subject were still open to conviction on the use of serum and he maintained that the wisest and most adequate knowledge of cancer possessed by the medical profession at the present time, the only reliable treatment lay in surgery.

Cancer was a local disease in the beginning and if removed in its incipient stages by the surgeon's knife there was every hope that it would not recur.

He did not believe that the rate of increase in the disease was as rapid or alarming as has been made out.

Imports Apples From U.S.

Canada Is Second Best Customer in This Respect

Washington.—In addition to being this country's best customer for oranges, lemons, peaches, grapes and berries, Canada is second only to the United Kingdom in the list of importers of United States apples. An official publication here says that more than $30,000,000 worth of apples were exported from the United States in 1926, an increase of $11,000,000 over 1925. The total exports of fresh fruits in that year were $53,000,000, and Canada was the principal customer.

Loan For B.C. Harbor

Ottawa.—Third reading was given in the House of Commons to a bill respecting a loan of $500,000 to the harbor commissioners of Chibouctou on the same terms under which loans had been made by the Government to the harbor commissioners of Montreal and Vancouver.

Here and There

Alberta is now the largest producer of oil and gas in Canada. In 1925 the production of gas amounted to approximately 9,000,000 thousand cubic feet, and the production of oil 183,000 barrels.

Louis Kon, trade delegate to the Union of Soviet Socialist Repulics, confirms the report that an order for $1,000,000 worth of border twine has been placed with a Brantford firm. Other large orders for Canada are pending.

During the season of 1926 over 86,000 square miles of mineralized areas in the Dominion were mapped out by means of aerial photography, according to the Department of Natural Resources at Ottawa. This is one of the most important uses to which aerial photography has been adapted.

A bill to establish a fish game and wild life sanctuary in the interior of Nova Scotia has been passed in the Legislature. The sanctuary is to be located at the intersection of the counties of Annapolis,
Digby, Yarmouth and Shelburne-Queens. Others may follow in other parts of the province in the near future.

A large single shipment of motor oil, a solid trainload of 26 cars of Marulube, left Sarnia for various points in the west, but mostly for Vancouver. The oil is a Canadian-manufactured product which has been developed within the past year.
At Fort William the special train was handed over to the Canadian Pacific Railway for exhibition along its lines.

Announcement of the offer of two scholarships, annually by E. W.
Beatty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and Chancellor of McGill University, to the first male candidate in Greek and Latin, and to the highest male candidate in mathematics entering the University, was made recently by Sir Arthur Currie, principal of McGill. A prize of $500 is attached to each scholarship.

According to the department of Colonization and Development of the Canadian Pacific Railway, there is every indication that there will be a great increase in the number of immigrants coming to Canada this year compared with the number locating during 1926. It has been estimated that immigration figures for this year will be almost double those of the past year. Since the first of the present year Canadian Pacific liners have brought to Canada approximately 15,000 new settlers.

E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, announced from headquarters recently that the name of the new hotel now being erected at Regina would be "Hotel Saskatchewan." The new C.P.R. hotel at this place will be an eleven story structure containing 284 bedrooms with bath and will cost in the neighborhood of $1,500,000, the opening being scheduled for May 24. The hotel is being built on one of the finest sites in the city on Victoria Avenue, facing the park. It will be only within a few minutes' walk from the C.P.R. Station.

The Canadian Pacific Railway made an excellent showing in 1926, gross revenue for the twelve months being the best shown since 1920, while net revenue was the best shown since 1917, being nearly 4 1/2 million ahead of the time record of 1925. In gross earnings from railway and lake steamers the year resulted in a very notable increase over the preceding fiscal year, the showing being one of the best on record, while income from special sources, including ocean steamers, held up well, being only slightly below that of 1925, and also being one of the best exhibits ever made by the company.

The Best Laxative He Ever Tried

Mr. W. J. Dorion, New York, writes: "Stick headache, indigestion and constipation have troubled me for years. I tried everything but I can truthfully say your CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS is the best laxative I have ever used. I find that they are small, easy to take and their action does not pain me. They keep me regular and knowing, due to my experience in laboratory work that laxatives, containing Mercury, Calomel and other poisonous drugs are injurious."

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are sugar coated, small, easy to swallow, and everyone in the family can take them in perfect confidence as they are a doctor's own formula.

The name inconspicuous carelessly prestated at the plundering of the women. Their fingers brushed lightly over gleaming throat, they begged pardon for every jewel, of which they took only those that sparkled flagrantly. A pretty young woman—a very pretty young one with the small angular face and smooth eyelids of an early madonna, dropped to her knees hysterically when a rough hand reached to a sapphire pendant which hung deep on a bare chest from which, in her excitement, she had almost torn the already scant reach to her gown. "Please," she pleaded to the bandit, "do not take my necklace! It is of small value. I have hidden diamonds that I will give you. My necklace is a reminder of my hand."

The evil fellow gave her his fingers and helped her to her feet. Then he bowed with a comic opera sweep of his wide brimmed hat. "I would not disturb the gift that reminds such a charming lady of something she should not forget," the bandit said. Joanna, who was standing near, glanced quickly at the common vulgar fellow, whose breath was strong with garlic and whose hands were gross and awkward. Then she looked at the girl, and smiled a little.

The brigand who appeared to be the leader of the robbing company, the one whose voice was particularly gruff, stepped into the middle of the floor and announced:

"We are most desirous to interfere with such plans as the messieurs and mesdames have made for their return to the more comfortable threshold of their homes below, there are circumstances which may not be avoided. It becomes a necessity to invite the gentlemen to remain within the hospitality of this isolated barn which we have borrowed for the evening. The ladies will be returned to the club house, where they may be so happy as to find other partners for the merry dances of the waning night. You will be reunited with the morrow, doubtless. When the ladies are deposited at the club house we shall leave you. Messieurs, the police will find us well disappeared by the time you gentlemen see your wristlets and find your way to the cities below."

The men against the wall stirred and swore, but Riverius menaced them. Some of the women blushed at the prospect of their deluge of the night becoming widely reported to bits for the spicy enjoyments of sensation mongers along the Riviera. The pretty girl who had protected the contents of her husband's shirt, an amused and ironical smile formed about the plectral mouth of the bandit who had sensed her predicament—her sudden thought of the consequences of being detected by that same husband in her clandestine visit with another man than he to the club house that is out of conventional bounds. Despite all protests the women were herded out of the barn, escorted across the soggy open space, through the pines, and onto the road. There they were instructed to climb into a big gray car. Joanna thought she recognized it as the one they had passed on the road, but was not sure. A silent figure sat at the wheel; one who knew every trick of the road and picked his way surely through the mist to the final turn which revealed the dim lights of the club house just ahead. Here the car stopped and the women were ordered to descend and proceed alone to the club house. "The telephone wires have been cut," the man who had driven the car said to them when they were all in the road; "you may be prepared to wait until the mist lifts or your escorts find their way below and send for you."

"I have only arrived," Brandon said, his words suave but irritatingly ironic. "I'm happy to find you—alone!"

With the reappearance of the hold-up victims, dragged and suffering from their various reflections upon becoming, as they surely would be, heroines of a widely told about night on Turbie, pandemonium broke out among the revelers who had elected to remain and who, by that time, had made serious inroads upon their host's store of champagne. The sense of the reception of those who had thought it necessary to brave the mist for a return to their places below, by those who heeded not convention, was that each one of the robbers' victims had, by the unexpected circumstance, become "one of us."

Joanna sat apart from the rihalo scene that immediately shaped itself. She made no pretense of restoring her mask to her face—by now all masks were openly discarded. Even the mask that restrained the club house itself had been dropped, and the revelry was unbridled.

Outside, after an hour, the big gray car which had disappeared after depositing the women still lay again to the parking yard and found a place to stand. This time Brandon, still muffled in his great coat, got out, leaving Antoine, as he had earlier in the evening. He threw his coat back into the car, arranged his domino, and, without his face mask, went directly into the house. He saw Joanna, alone at her isolated table and went directly up to her.

CHAPTER XXXIII

The Test

When the dominated figure loomed at her table Joanna looked up, curiously. When she recognized the unmasked face she started. The relieved greeting she would have given anyone close to her, who might provide intimate companionship through the rest of such an exciting adventure, trembled for an instant at her tongue. But something in Brandon's face numbed her lips.

She rose to her feet, hand up, over her breast, with a faint recoil.

The fear that she had never shaken off, crashed down upon her in a tumult—the unformed, unutterable fear that came to her when he first touched her fingers at the table across from Rejection in the bank when she had written her first check against her mysterious money.

"You here!" she breathed: "I didn't know—how you here—"

"I have only arrived," he said, his words were but irritatingly ironic. "I am happy to find you—alone!"

Joanna knew, from his tone and his manner, that a climax impending. A climax of some sort; something associated with the slight, with her white dress, Brandon had stood for in his relationship to her since that day in the bank.

Out on the dance floor, and at the tables near, she saw men and women looking at them curiously; at her, the golden girl whom everyone recognized; and for whom many eyebrows had been raised when the came in with the bedraggled troop that had been ushered back to the club house by the brigando. Looking at her and Brandon who she asked knew. Her chin went up a little, and she braced herself inwardly.

"I am alone only by chance," she said; coolly. "I was here, with Kenti work. He has been—"

"I know," he broke in. "Some mountain bandits have taken charge of him and returned you here—so that everyone may know that for your relaxations you choose a society and a surrounding that are, to say the least, daring."

"That, of course, is what pleases you to know. Why have you come? I feel that you are here—because of me."

"I am," he said, shortly. "I am here to tell you, at last, that the play is over. As you have put your mask aside for the rest of the night, so my interesting little masquerade must be dropped. You came up here, I imagine, to color an amour. Instead you are about to discover—that you're made of."

She sank back into her chair. Her face blanched. Her brain ached with the knowledge of an animal that in some mysterious fashion it has been caught in a trap. Before he spoke again she laughed, a short, unusual laugh, as if she were amused by the foolishness of her feeling, the utterly ridiculous about it.

The laugh died abruptly and she watched the man who still stood looking down at her unsmiling, ungracious, inconsiderate.

"I have a great deal to say to you," Brandon declared. He paused a moment, and then continued:

"There is a room—a small supper room, just off the balcony. If you do not object, may we talk—in that room?"

She got to her feet silently, and when he had bowed his acknowledgment of her assent, walked with him to the circular stairway that led to the mezzanine. At the door of the private banquet room he stood aside that she might enter ahead of him. A waiter met him at the door.

"We shall not be served," Brandon said to the man, "but as I shall leave the door open, perhaps you will stand near to discourage loitering on the balcony."

Joanna faced him when he stepped across the threshold.

(To Be Continued.)

Little Helps For This Week

Thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things; enter thou into the joy of thy Lord.—Matthew xxv. 21.

O Ye that faint and die, arise and live!

Sing, ye that all things have a charge to bless;

If life is faithful who has sworn to give, Then be ye also faithful to possess.

—Anna Lucilla Waring

I will not count On ought but being faithful.

—George Eliot.

The essential fidelity of the heart is the same, whether it be exercised in two miles or in a regal treasury; the genuine faithfulness of the life is equally beautiful, whether it be displayed in governing an empire or in writing a letter. Observe the striking fact that our Lord does not say, "He that is faithful in that which is least will be faithful also in much," but "He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much."

—Frederic W. Farrar.

The Oil for the Farmer.—A bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil—in the form of the doctor. It is not only good for the children when taken with colds and croup, and for the mature who suffer from pains and aches, but there are directions for its use on sick cattle. There should always be a bottle of it in the house.

Working on "Silent" Planes

France Perfecting Machines That Cannot Be Heard

Silent aeroplanes, painted the color of night, which can neither be heard or seen after dark, will soon be a practical accomplishment of the French Aviation Service, it is reliably stated.

Several other nations have been working along the same lines, but have not yet succeeded. Recent French experiments with new wonderful silencers have demonstrated that the "plane equipped with them could not be heard at a distance of 200 feet from the ground. Within a short time, absolutely silent planes will be a feature of the French Aviation Service, according to the same reports.

The laboratory has also been working for many months on the question of the color of planes and the experts have decided upon a new dark paint which has the effect of so successfully blending the "plane into the night atmosphere as to make it invisible even within a few hundred feet of the landing field.

With the so-called "disappearing" paint and silent engines, the death-dealing qualities of the aeroplane will be increased enormously, in the opinion of aeronautical experts. They cite as an example a night attack by several hundred armored planes, including bombers, upon an enemy city or position.

The enemy anti-aircraft defences would be immediately placed at a great disadvantage, for about the only means of detection left would be searchlights.

During the World War the peculiar sound of approaching German planes, which to many people seemed to say the words "I will," acted as a sufficient warning to permit the French defending air forces to get into action.

The man with a grievance is a grievance to others.

Catapult Aeroplanes

Have Been Successfully Launched From Deck of Ships

To save space, it is suggested that Atlantic liners approaching their ports should discharge small aeroplanes laden with specially urgent mails and parcels, or, in exceptional cases, even passengers. It has already been proved that aeroplanes can be launched from the crowded decks of ships by the catapult system.

It has been shown that aeroplanes with no human beings on board can be propelled on to subjects thirty-five miles distant, and it is expected that this range will, shortly be increased to one hundred miles.

Inga Councilors met in Stony Plain on Friday, 8th of April. There was some discussion on the old question of putting the herd law in force throught the municipality. A delegation was present from the south end of division two seeking to have part of that area made exempt from the operation of the law. After the Councilors had given the matter some consideration, it was decided to exempt all land west of Range 3 (divisions 3 and 4), and all of division 2 south of Tp. 52. A grant of $100 to the Salvation Army was passed. Mr Roberts, of the Canada Ingot Iron Co., makers of culverts, etc., was present. There was on view at the meeting Knight's new 6'x6' map of Inga municipality, showing the roads and all important details. Smaller maps, one of each division, were also received, which go to the Councilors, while the larger one will decorate the office of Secretary Lidgdon. The Councilors meet next the first Friday in May—the 6th.
